2.6 CITY OF SKOPJE

Skopje the capital and largest city in Macedonia , which is also an administrative, political, economic, cultural, educational and scientific center. During its existence, the city of Skopje was named by different names depending on the historical occasions. The ancient name is Scupi (latin) which indicates its longevity. We love it so much, we wanted to share our 5 reasons to visit Skopje:

- It has a long history rich with customs and traditions. Archaeological evidence shows that civilisations flourished in North Macedonia as early as 7000 years BC. It has unusual collection of monuments, interestingly, Skopje is known as the ‘city of statues’. A massive earthquake destroyed most of the city’s historic monuments in 1963 (in fact, about 80% of the city was destroyed). Some 40 years later, the government embarked on a project to ‘repopulate’ the city with statues. The result is a largely wonderful collection of statues, which visitors like. Make sure you tick off the following life-size, marble and bronze Skopje attractions during your sightseeing tour
- Most notably, you can explore unique Skopje attractions, including its Old Bazaar, Fortress and Stone Bridge without breaking the bank.
- If you ever needed an excuse to visit Skopje, it is officially the cheapest city in Europe. When Wanderu published their research around the cheapest cities to visit in Europe, Skopje was in number one spot.
- Traditional Macedonian dishes are generous and deliciously rustic, with Mediterranean, Baltic and Middle Eastern influences. Think grilled meat, fresh fruit and vegetables, stuffed peppers, moussaka and pot-baked beans. The local food is therefore rich and hearty. And Skopje has a wonderful selection of kafanas (traditional Macedonian restaurants) to sample it.
- Beyond Skopje’s fabulous food, you’ll be seduced by its flourishing wine scene. Did you know locals have been growing grapes in this part of the world since the 13th century BC? The country’s Mediterranean climate (with 270 sunny days per year) combined with a rich terroir lends itself to full-bodied, fruity red wines, none more famous than Macedonia’s deep-red, almost black, Vranec.

Everything that we mentioned above, and much more, can be seen with an organized walk with a professional guide.

As planned, a three-hour guided sightseeing city tour with a professional tourist guide in Skopje is certainly our invitation to enjoy the beauties of Skopje.
